Hello Neighbor,

You should be having your dry cleaning picked up and delivered. It’s crazy if you’re not. It doesn’t cost any more--actually you’ll save some gas money and the time to go get it because we do that for you for free.

Does this sound familiar:

It’s a rainy Monday morning and you’re on your way to work. You usually stop by the dry cleaners. You’re drinking some coffee and talking on your cell phone and you drive right by. You’re running late, so you don’t turn around. You make a mental note to go there tonight on your way home. You forget again and finally make it there tomorrow. It’ll be ready Thursday. You leave work late and you’re rushing to get to the dry cleaner before it closes. You don’t make it.

Hi, my name is Sandy Cho and I run Pacific View Cleaners. Let me pick-up and deliver your dry cleaning for you and help simplify your life. You don’t need the hassle of doing something that I can do for you--and on top of that, it doesn't cost any more.

Why not let me show you the luxury (without the cost) of dry cleaning pick-up and delivery?

Put out your dry cleaning this Monday in one of our garment valet bags and miraculously it shows up on Thursday or you put it out with a note saying "next day," and it shows up Tuesday. Or you forget to put it out, or you just got back from a vacation or a business trip--you call us and we’ll pick it up and it shows up the next day. Now that’s dry cleaning nirvana, isn’t it?

Besides dry cleaning and laundering your shirts, we clean comforters, tablecloths, linens, blankets, drapes, suede, leather, area rugs and most anything you can think of. We will also do alterations, recycle your hangers; take away your Goodwill (and provide you with a receipt).

$5 dollars for your broken buttons.

I don’t know about you, but I get really mad when a shirt comes back from the cleaners with a broken button. So here’s what I’ve done: you’ll get $5 dollars cash for any buttons we miss that are broken. Don’t get me wrong, we didn’t set up this policy so that we could give away five-
